November 15, 2018

Customer Award Program Recognizes Industry-leading Use of CEM Technology to Ensure Resiliency, Safety and Business Acceleration

BURLINGTON, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Nov. 15, 2018-- Everbridge, Inc. (NASDAQ: EVBG), the global leader in critical event management and enterprise safety software applications to help keep people safe and businesses running, today announced the recipients of this year's Critical Event Management Impact Awards. In its second year, the annual award program recognizes unique, innovative and impactful use of the Everbridge Critical Event Management \(CEM\) Platform to support organizational resiliency, business optimization and employee and resident safety.

Winners of this year's Critical Event Management Impact Awards included a diverse mix of employee safety-centric organizations and committed individual emergency response and incident management leaders. Recipients ranged from global retail and consumer businesses, to state and local government agencies, leading universities, regional airports and healthcare organizations.

The Leadership Award – recognizing outstanding individual leadership and commitment to their industry

In recognition of his commitment to supporting the National Capital Region's mass notification program, which represents eighteen jurisdictions surrounding Washington, DC, Sulayman Brown, Assistant Coordinator, Operations and Outreach Division Manager, Fairfax County (Virginia) Office of Emergency Management, was awarded The Leadership Award. Brown spearheaded the National Capital Region's efforts in planning the largest-ever local test of the Wireless Emergency Alert (WEA) system. The successful test involved sending more than 5 million messages across all jurisdictions and involved FEMA, the FCC and other stakeholders. In addition, with support from Brown's leadership, the region sends over 25,000 public alert notifications per year, for everything from crime and traffic, to severe weather, emergencies and special events.
